VOGO signs a deal with US Soccer for the roll out of VOKKERO STAFF and VOKKERO ELITE solutions

VOGO (ISIN: FR0011532225 - ALVGO) announces that US Soccer coaches and medical teams will be using VOKKERO STAFF and VOKKERO ELITE audio solutions.

Created in 1913, US Soccer is the American Soccer Federation that governs the men's and women's national teams. It is a member of CONCACAF and has been affiliated with FIFA since 1914.

With a successful initial deployment of VOKKERO audio communication solutions during the CONCACAF tournament in March 2025, US Soccer has purchased VOGO's VOKKERO STAFF radio terminals to equip its coaches and medical teams.

It is already using this solution for all official matches of the men's and women's national teams and will deploy it during the next FIFA World Cup in the United States, Canada and Mexico in 2026.

US Soccer has also decided to purchase VOKKERO ELITE terminals for its referees to support refereeing decision-making throughout the games.

Commenting on the agreement, the management of US Soccer said: "We are very proud to be able to provide our staff and referees with new leading edge products. The VOKKERO systems offer significant advantages, in particular the noise filter, full duplex and easy-to-use kits for seamless communication between the stakeholders. We look forward to reaping the benefits of this new solution, especially during the FIFA 2026 World Cup".

After numerous Federations like the Estonian Football Association, the Belgian Football Association and the Chinese Football Association, VOGO continues to supply major Football bodies directly with its solutions.
